

ABSTRACT

A tie-down system for attaching beams used in creating a roof system to the supporting walls of a structure. The tie-down system having a first member and a second member which are 5 adapted to receive the beams therein and secure the same to the wall system in a steadfast manner.

PRINTED IN U.S.A. 100-003P